President & CEO Jong-Kyun Shin

Dear Samsung Electronics Stakeholder:

Throughout 2013, we pursued growth and innovation, despite facing challenges in the global economy, by continuing to identify new opportunities and possibilities through our transformative technologies and innovation.

As a result, we recorded historically high sales and profit to cement our leadership in the global electronics industry. Based on consolidated financial statements, we realized sales revenue of KRW 229 trillion, operating profit of KRW 37 trillion and net profit of KRW 30 trillion, increases of 14%, 27% and 28%, respectively, over the previous year.

Enhancing core business capabilities and expanding market leadership

Last year, Samsung Electronics extended its market leadership in core businesses, including the mobile communications, TV and memory chip businesses. In mobile communications, thanks to excellent smartphone performance, we achieved the remarkable result of No. 1 ranking in both sales and market share to solidify our industry leadership. Meanwhile, our growth in tablets more than doubled. In the TV business, we were again No. 1 in sales, achieving that rank for the eighth consecutive year, as well as leading the industry in profitability. Our memory business saw significant gains in 2013, owing to improved cost savings and advanced process technology development, which helped boost sales of differentiated and high-value-added products such as SSDs. For the 22nd consecutive year, our memory business achieved No. 1 global market share, which we've held now since 1993.

Securing core competitiveness while accelerating new growth engines

We continued to reinforce our core competencies in R&D and design by recruiting outstanding talent and by restructuring. By establishing an open innovation system, we strengthened partnerships with outside research institutes and launched new professional organizations, such as Softech and the Big Data Center, to strengthen our software capabilities. We are adding to our extensive global R&D network by building a new R&D Center to develop future technologies including materials. Anticipating future growth engines, we have focused resources and capabilities on health and medical equipment, B2B services and lifecare areas, such as Smart Home and mobile health applications. These new technologies and services are attracting favorable reviews both in Korea and abroad. Overall, we registered 4,676 patents in the US and continued our award-winning performance with nine IDEA International Design Excellence Awards in 2013 and 24 CES 2014 Innovations Awards. We were ranked No. 8 on Interbrand's Best 100 Global Brands 2013, with a brand value of USD 39.6 billion. Fortune listed Samsung Electronics 21st on its World's Most Admired Companies list.

Creating new experiences beyond the known limits of markets and technology

In 2014, although we anticipate steady global economic recovery, market uncertainty will linger. Competition in the electronics industry will intensify as growth in the smartphone and TV markets slows. But despite such challenges, we will continue to grow. In 2013, we will embrace challenges to pursue innovation and bring new experiences to consumers beyond the current limits of markets and technology.

First, we will consolidate our electronics industry leadership by sharpening competition in our businesses. Our core areas, including mobile phones, TVs and memory chips, will sustain their market leadership as we develop premium products and differentiated technologies. In mobile communications, we will broaden our product lines and lead the LTE market to maintain our leading smartphone position. At the same time, we will more aggressively pursue the tablet market. In TVs, we will focus on high value-added premium product sales, including the UHD/Curved TV and ultra sized TV. Our leadership in the memory business will be strengthened as we expand cutting-edge process technology and push forward with high function and high value-added products and solution mixed strategies. Additionally, we are moving ahead with mass production of next-generation V-NAND flash memory. We are also preparing for growth by securing core technologies and expanding retail networks in our developing businesses, such as digital appliances, networks, printing solutions and LED.

Next, we will focus on sound management to increase profitability. We expect to fortify resource management efficiency companywide, including in investments and global SCM capability, which will result in improved performance. We expect to reorganize systems in order to enhance response time, minimize management risk or uncertainty and monitor ongoing compliance.

Third, we will secure the future with sustainable growth. To maximize competitiveness in our diverse value chains, including components, sets, solutions and services, we will develop innovative technology and new categories of products that encourage future core technology. We also will accelerate new growth engines, such as electronic materials and our B2B business.

true detail and outstanding features

Curved UHD TV HU9000
With the optimal 4200R curvature and proprietary picture quality technology, Samsung's Curved UHD TV delivers the ultimate immersive experience and images with a greater sense of depth for a comfortable and perfect viewing experience.

Our distinction of being TV's global first mover continued through 2013. Despite the depressed TV market, Samsung Electronics again earned No. 1 global market share of 26.8% across all flat panel TV product lines, including LCD, LED and PDP TVs. That makes it eight years in a row. We maintained our dominant leadership in ultra large size and premium TVs while further securing No. 1 market share of 36% in 60 inches and larger TVs. Samsung's UHD TVs earned No. 1 market share of 30% within six months of launch.

We achieved that outstanding performance with a three-pronged approach: Focusing on premium marketing for large size smart TVs and UHD TV; differentiating products with leading-edge smart features and innovative design; and customizing strategies for advanced and developing regional markets. In 2014, we will continue to lead the global TV market by focusing on premium sales, including for the Curved UHD TV and ultra large size TV. We foresee full-scale expansion in the UHD TV market this year.

Our AV business generated terrific market response with the launch of our industry-first sound bar with a vacuum tube and the AirTrack, which wirelessly links to the TV. In 2014, we will introduce a wireless home entertainment system that can connect to a variety of AV devices, including the sound bar and multi-room speakers, so consumers can enjoy superior sound quality anytime and anywhere in the home.

Curved FHD TV H8000 By maximizing its curve and good looks to enhance room design, the Curved FHD TV sets a new standard for TVs that will suit consumer lifestyles.

Sharing and Volunteering to Support Hope

Around the globe, Samsung Electronics has developed Corporate Citizenship programs that focus on education, professional training and healthcare, while also reflecting the needs and characteristics of the region. We work to improve education in disadvantaged areas by offering educational infrastructure and e-learning opportunities to students. We expand job opportunities for young adults with IT vocational training. We improve the health and quality of lives in disadvantaged regions with high-tech medical equipment. Our specialized programs are co-developed and implemented with regional NGO partners so we best understand and address local issues.

Samsung Tech Institute

Samsung Tech Institute develops the independence and self-reliance of young adults with systematic vocational education. Programs vary with location. We train software engineers in advanced countries and offer computer science classes in developing countries. We nurture talent and create jobs by operating 23 institutes in Europe, Central and Latin America, Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa and more.

Samsung Smart School

Samsung Smart School works to bridge the global education gap by improving educational environments for students in disadvantaged areas. Tailored to regional needs, Smart School Solutions include IT training curriculum for advanced countries and basic educational infrastructure, such as buildings, educational materials and books, for developing countries. Begun in Korea and expanded to Europe and Southwest Asia, there are now 383 Smart Schools worldwide.

Samsung Solve for Tomorrow

This is a global competition of students and teachers for ideas that will solve social issues with STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) knowhow. We present a social issue in need of a solution, solicit ideas through the competition and hold a workshop for selected winners to investigate how to develop and implement a resolution. The program has spread from North America and China to contests around the world.

Samsung Care Drive

Samsung Electronics first began supporting healthcare programs in China, Russia and Africa with its advanced medical equipment technology, products and services, including ultrasonic diagnostic equipment and medical training for local medical associations. We operate a mobile medical center in areas that lack medical facilities and professionals to promote health and quality of life for local residents. The program will be expanded worldwide in the future.

Samsung Nanum Village

By contributing to local community development, Samsung Nanum Village aims to target the roots of poverty and build self-reliance. We provide comprehensive infrastructure, critical basic services to socially disadvantaged populations. In partnership with national governments, we select candidate regions and offer support for education infrastructure, medical facilities, clean water and the construction of community centers.

Samsung Employee Donations and Volunteering

Samsung Electronics employees have a long tradition of helping neighbors at home and abroad. In Korea, we raise social funds from employee donations and company matching funds while most employees actively volunteer their time and skills. In our workplaces around the world, we host volunteer services that care for neighbors in need, address local issues with IT classes and other education, participate in Habitat for Humanity, mentor youth and disabled children and support social welfare groups.

With the goal of creating more hope worldwide, Samsung Electronics develops corporate social responsibility programs that support regional needs and cultures. We offer unstinting support and diverse activities to ensure everyone's access to health, education and self-reliance.

As a responsible global company, Samsung Electronics continues to evolve its green management to preserve the environment. In 2013, we achieved the core goals of our Eco-Management 2013 program. With a view to the future, we are now establishing a new green strategy to further protect our beautiful planet.

Green Management Considering the Planet

Since the announcement of the Eco-Management 2013 strategy, a mid-term Green Management policy announced in 2009, we have successfully launched eco-friendly products, developed green workplaces and reduced greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. As of 2013, we fulfilled its key goals of a 50% reduction in GHG emissions intensity (tons per revenue in KRW) and a 100% launch of eco-friendly products that are eligible for global eco marks. In 2014, we are setting new goals for green management to help realize a sustainable global environment where nature, people and business can grow in harmony.

Developing Green Products

We are focused on developing green technology and products based on our main principles of minimizing environmental impact across the entire product life cycle, from procurement, manufacturing, distribution, usage to disposal. We are launching products that embody the environmental values of reducing energy consumption, resources and hazardous substances, protecting water resources and leveraging green wherever possible.

Operating Green Manufacturing Sites

All of our manufacturing sites practice systematic green management and have earned ISO 14001 and ISO 50001 certifications, the recognized international standards for environmental systems and energy management. We monitor and control emissions of air and water pollutants as well as ozone-depleting substances in accordance with legal requirements and our stricter internal standards. We also promote extensive programs to enhance efficiencies in using water and raw materials.

Reducing Greenhouse Gas Emissions

We actively reduce greenhouse gas emissions from our manufacturing sites and the use of our products by improving the energy efficiency of manufacturing facilities and by producing energy-efficient products. We are broadening the scope of GHG inventory management to include more awareness on employee business trips, logistics and supplier business activities.

Measures That Ensure Employee Health and Safety

With employee safety and health as the top priority, Samsung Electronics makes every effort to operate workplaces with comfortable and thoroughly safe conditions. Based on OHSAS 18001, an international standard for occupational health and safety management systems, we established world-class safety and health management systems in every workplace and continue to operate a variety of safety-first programs.

We focus on prevention by fully examining potential risks in advance and by preparing countermeasures. We then institute continuous monitoring and improvement. We also prepare advance and aftereffect risk response systems by creating emergency scenarios about environmental pollution, harmful chemical substance spills, fires, explosions and natural disasters. Our systematic programs for employees include regular education to improve awareness of health and safety requirements as well as training for emergency evacuation and other emergency measures.

We are equally committed to employee healthcare. Our THC comprehensive medical management system includes employee health information from medical examinations and other tests or evaluations. Through that system, we plan to offer customized health programs, such as medical professionals at an in-house hospital, obesity clinics, prevention of muscular skeletal disease and managing mental health. Looking ahead, we will continue to expand investments in health and safety for employees so they can develop their abilities in safe environments and enjoy healthier lives.

Expansion of Win-Win Partnerships to Share Growth

Our suppliers are valued partners of Samsung Electronics and sharpen our competitive edge. We are building a robust industrial ecosystem to share growth and prosperity by actively supporting suppliers to strengthen their competence. Since our Shared Growth Management Implementation Plan was announced in 2011, we have expanded the win-win partnerships in various fields by providing financial support, supporting second- and third-tier suppliers, opening doors to business opportunities, cultivating globally competitive SMEs, supporting technology development and helping to recruit and train talent.

In partnership with the Industrial Bank of Korea, we operate a Supplier Support Fund of KRW 1 trillion to help our suppliers improve their businesses. We operate the Globally Competitive SME program, in which we identify excellent suppliers and support them with customized funds, human resources and manufacturing technology so they can become leaders in their fields. We also host a Technology Innovation Contest to spark Korean SME technology development and operate the Innovative Technology Committee to discover and support technology startups as well as the Management Advisory Council for Suppliers that allows access to experts.

In 2013, we established the Win-Win Partnership Academy to provide more systematic and customized educational programs for suppliers, including vocational training, business management and leadership development. We work with our suppliers to establish compliance management systems so they comply with international laws, labor regulations, human rights and health and safety standards. Looking ahead, we are expanding our support and shared growth benefits beyond our first-tier suppliers to include second- and third-tier suppliers as well.

We all dream about making the world better today and brighter tomorrow. Reaching for that dream, Samsung Electronics is committed to corporate citizenship around the globe.

We lend a hand to children who want to learn and to young adults who want to work, instilling them with optimistic energy. We also help neighborhoods and communities to embrace hope and health.

At the same time, with heartfelt appreciation, we ensure the vital safety of our employees, the continued growth of our business partners and the essential preservation of the planet. By believing, sharing and engaging, we all will flourish and realize our dreams.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of Presentation

The Company has prepared the consolidated financial statements in accordance with Korean International Financial Reporting Standards ("K-IFRS"). International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) have been adopted by the Korean Accounting Standards Board as K-IFRS based on standards and interpretations published by the International Accounting Standards Board.

K-IFRS permits the use of critical accounting estimates in the preparation of the financial statements and requires management judgments in applying accounting policies. Footnote 3 explains where more complex and higher standards of judgment or critical assumptions and estimates are required.

2.2 Changes in Accounting Policy and Disclosures

(A) New and amended standards adopted by the Company

The Company applied the following amended and enacted standards for the annual period beginning on January 1, 2013:

K-IFRS 1110, 'Consolidated Financial Statements'

The standard introduces a single control concept and provides a specific guidance for the control. The adoption of this standard does not have an impact on consolidation scope in the consolidated financial statements.

K-IFRS 1111, 'Joint Arrangements'

The standard reflects the substance of joint arrangements and focuses on the rights and obligations of the parties to the joint arrangements rather than on the legal forms of the arrangements. Joint arrangements are classified into joint operations or joint ventures. The adoption of this standard does not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

K-IFRS 1112, 'Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities'

The standard provides disclosure requirements for all types of equity investments in other entities including subsidiaries, joint arrangements, associates and unconsolidated structured entities.

K-IFRS 1113, 'Fair Value Measurement'

The standard provides a precise definition of fair value, and a single source of fair value measurement and disclosure requirements for use across K-IFRS. The adoption of this standard does not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

K-IFRS 1027, 'Separate Financial Statements'

The standard contains accounting treatments and requirements for investments in subsidiaries, associates, and joint ventures relating only to separate financial statements of the Company.

(B) New and amended standards early adopted by the Company

Amendment to K-IFRS 1036, 'Impairment of Assets'

The amendment reflects the change in disclosure requirement of the recoverable amount for each cash-generating unit including goodwill or intangible assets with indefinite useful lives. The amendment requires disclosure of the recoverable amount only if the entity has recognized impairment losses or reversals of impairment losses. For consistency, the amendment also requires additional disclosures when the recoverable amount of impaired assets is based on fair value less costs of disposal. The amendment to this standard does not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Amendments to K-IFRS 1110, 'Consolidated Financial Statements', K-IFRS 1112, 'Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities', and K-IFRS 1027, 'Separate Financial Statements'

The amendments define an investment entity and require a parent that is an investment entity to measure its investments in particular subsidiaries at fair value through profit or loss instead of presenting consolidated financial statements. These amendments do not apply to a parent of an investment entity if the parent itself is not an investment entity. The amendments to K-IFRS 1110 and K-IFRS 1027 do not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

(C) New and amended standards not adopted by the Company

New standards, amendments and interpretations issued but not effective for the financial year beginning January 1, 2013 and not early adopted are as follows:

Amendment to K-IFRS 1032, 'Financial Instruments: Presentation'

The standard provides that the right to offset must not be contingent on a future event and must be legally enforceable in all of circumstances; and if an entity can settle amounts in a manner such that outcome is, in effect, equivalent to net settlement, the entity will meet the net settlement criterion. This amendment is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014, and the Company is assessing the impact of application of this amendment on its consolidated financial statements.

Enactment of K-IFRIC Interpretations 2121, 'Levies'

The interpretation requires that the liability to pay a levy is recognized when the activity that triggers the payment of the levy occurs, as identified by the legislation (the obligating event). This interpretation is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014, with early adoption permitted. The Company is assessing the impact of application of this interpretation on its consolidated financial statements.

2.3 Consolidation

The Company prepares annual consolidated financial statements in accordance with K-IFRS 1110, 'Consolidated Financial Statements'

(A) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities (including special purpose entities) over which the Company has control. The Company controls the corresponding investee when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins from the date the Company obtains control of a subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary.

The Company applies the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred is measured at the fair values of the assets transferred, and identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are initially measured at their fair values at the acquisition date. The Company recognizes any non-controlling interest in the acquiree on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis in the event of liquidation at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the recognized amounts of acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

Goodwill is recognized as the excess of (1) the aggregate of i) the consideration transferred, ii) the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and iii) the acquisition-date fair value of the Company's previously held equity interest in the acquiree over (2) the net identifiable assets acquired. If the aggregate amount in (1) is less than the fair value of the acquiree's net assets in (2), the difference is recognized in profit or loss.

Balances of receivables and payables, income and expenses and unrealized gains on transactions between the Company subsidiaries are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries are changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company.

(B) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries without change of control

Transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions – that is, as transactions with the owners in their capacity as owners. The difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying value of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals to non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity.

(C) Disposal of subsidiaries

If the Company loses control of a subsidiary, any investment continuously retained in the subsidiary is re-measured at its fair value at the date when control is lost and any resulting differences are recognized in profit or loss. Such fair value becomes the initial carrying amount for the subsequent measurement of the retained interest accounted for as an associate, joint venture, or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in respect of such entity are accounted for as if the Company had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

(D) Non-controlling interests

Each component of profit or loss and other comprehensive income is attributed to owners of the parent and to non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income is attributed to owners of the parent and to non-controlling interests even if this results in a negative balance of non-controlling interests.

(E) Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Company has significant influence, generally investees of which from 20% to 50% of voting stock is owned by the Company. Investments in associates are initially recognized at acquisition cost using the equity method. Unrealized gains on transactions between the Company and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Company's interest in the associates. If there is any objective evidence that the investment in the associate is impaired, the Company recognizes the difference between the recoverable amount of the associate and its book value as impairment loss.

(F) Joint arrangements

A joint arrangement of which two or more parties have joint control is classified as either a joint operation or a joint venture. A joint operator has rights to the assets, and obligations for the liabilities, relating to the joint operation and recognizes the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses relating to its interest in a joint operation. A joint venturer has rights to the net assets relating to the joint venture and accounts for that investment using the equity method.

2.4 Foreign Currency Translation

(A) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Company's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which each entity operates (the "functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in Korean won, which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

(B) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are re-measured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognized in profit or loss.

Exchange differences arising on non-monetary financial assets and liabilities such as equity instruments at fair value through profit or loss and available-for-sale equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss and included in other comprehensive income, respectively, as part of the fair value gain or loss.

(C) Translation into the presentation currency

The results and financial position of all the foreign entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency of the Company are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

Assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the end of the reporting date.

Income and expenses for each statement of income are translated at average exchange rates, unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions.

All resulting exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of the net investment in foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income. When a foreign operation is partially disposed of or sold, the exchange differences that were recorded in equity are reclassified as part of gains and losses on disposition in the statement of income. When the Company loses control over foreign subsidiaries, the exchange differences that were recorded in equity are reclassified into profit or loss when such gain or loss on disposition is recognized.

Any goodwill arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation and any fair value adjustments are treated as the foreign operation's assets and liabilities. Such goodwill is expressed in the foreign operation's functional currency and is translated at the closing rate. Exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.

2.5 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

2.6 Financial Assets

(A) Classification

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets, and held-to-maturity financial assets. The classification depends on the terms of the instruments and purpose for which the financial assets were acquired. Management determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition.

(1) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets held for trading. A financial asset is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short-term. Derivatives not subject to hedge accounting and derivatives separated from financial instruments such as embedded derivatives are also categorized as held for trading. Assets in this category are classified as current assets.

(2) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are included in current assets, except for those with maturities greater than 12 months after the end of the reporting period which are classified as non-current assets.

(3) Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivatives that are either designated in this category or not classified in any of the other categories. They are included in non-current assets unless an investment matures or management intends to dispose of it within 12 months of the end of the reporting period.

(B) Recognition and measurement

Regular purchases and sales of financial assets are recognized on the trade date. At initial recognition, financial assets are measured at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in the statement of income. After the initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are subsequently carried at fair value. Loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Changes in fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognized in profit or loss and changes in fair value of available-for-sale financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income. When the available-for-sale financial assets are sold or impaired, the fair value adjustments recorded in equity are reclassified into profit or loss.

Interest on available-for-sale financial assets and held-to-maturity financial assets calculated using the effective interest method is recognized in the statement of income as part of finance income. Dividends on available-for-sale financial assets are recognized in the statement of income as part of other non-operating income when the Company's right to receive payments is established.

(C) Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the statement of financial position when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(D) Derecognition of financial assets

If the Company transfers a financial asset and the transfer does not result in derecognition because the Company has retained substantially of all the risks and rewards of ownership of the transferred asset due to a recourse in the event the debtor defaults, the Company continues to recognize the transferred asset in its entirety and recognizes a financial liability for the consideration received. The related financial liability is classified as 'borrowings' in the statement of financial position.

2.7 Impairment of Financial Assets

The Company assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired. A financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired and impairment loss is recognized only if there is objective evidence and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated.

Impairment of loans and receivables is presented as a deduction in an allowance account. Impairment of other financial assets is directly deducted from their carrying amount. The Company writes off financial assets when the assets are determined to be no longer recoverable.

The objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired includes significant financial difficulty of the issuer or obligor; a delinquency in interest or principal payments; or the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties. A decline in the fair value of an available-for-sale equity instrument by more than 20% from its cost or a prolonged decline below its cost for more than six months is also objective evidence of impairment.

2.8 Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for merchandise sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. If collection is expected in one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the Company if longer), they are classified as current assets. If not, they are presented as non-current assets. Trade receivables are recognized initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

2.9 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined using the average cost method, except for materials in transit. The cost of finished goods and work in progress comprises design costs, raw materials, direct labor, other direct costs and related production overheads (based on normal operating capacity). It excludes costs of idle plant and abnormal waste. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less applicable variable selling expenses.

Inventories are reduced for the estimated losses arising from excess, obsolescence, and decline in value. This reduction is determined by estimating market value based on future customer demand. The losses on inventory obsolescence are recorded as a part of cost of sales.

2.10 Disposal Group Held-for-Sale

Non-current assets (or disposal group) are classified as assets held-for-sale when their carrying amount is to be recovered principally through a sale transaction and a sale is considered highly probable. The assets are measured at the lower amount between their carrying amount and the fair value less costs to sell.

2.11 Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Historical cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of those parts that are replaced is derecognized and repairs and maintenance expenses are recognized in profit or loss in the period they are incurred.

Depreciation on tangible assets is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate the difference between their cost and their residual values over their estimated useful lives. Land is not depreciated. Costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset, including capitalized interest costs, form part of the cost of that asset and are amortized over the estimated useful lives.

The Company's policy is that property, plant and equipment should be depreciated over the following estimated useful lives:

	Estimated useful lives
Buildings and structures	15, 30 years
Machinery and equipment	5 years
Others	5 years

The depreciation method, residual values and useful lives of property, plant and equipment are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognized within the statement of income as part of other non-operating income and expenses.

2.12 Intangible Assets

Goodwill represents the excess of the cost of an acquisition over the fair value of the group's share of the net identifiable assets of the acquired subsidiary, associates, joint ventures and businesses at the date of acquisition.

Goodwill on acquisitions of subsidiaries and businesses is included in intangible assets and goodwill on acquisition of associates and joint ventures are included in the investments in associates and joint ventures.

Intangible assets, except for goodwill, are initially recognized at their historical cost and carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Internally generated development costs are the aggregate costs recognized after meeting the asset recognition criteria, including technical feasibility, and determined to have future economic benefits. Membership rights are regarded as intangible assets with indefinite useful life and not amortized because there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which the assets are expected to be utilized. Intangible assets with definite useful life such as trademarks and licenses are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives.

The Company's policy is that intangible assets should be amortized over the following estimated useful lives:

	Estimated useful lives
Development costs	2 years
Trademarks, licenses and other intangible assets	5-10 years

2.13 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Goodwill or intangible assets with indefinite useful life are not subject to amortization and are tested annually for impairment. Assets that are subject to amortization are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill that suffered impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

2.14 Financial Liabilities

(A) Classification and measurement

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are financial instruments held for trading. Financial liabilities are classified in this category if incurred principally for the purpose of repurchasing them in the near term. Derivatives that are not designated as hedges or bifurcated from financial instruments containing embedded derivatives are also categorized as held-for-trading.

The Company classifies non-derivative financial liabilities, except for financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, financial guarantee contracts and financial liabilities that arise when a transfer of financial assets does not qualify for derecognition, as financial liabilities carried at amortized cost and presented as 'trade payables', 'borrowings', and 'other financial liabilities' in the statement of financial position.

(B) Derecognition

Financial liabilities are removed from the statement of financial position when it is extinguished, for example, when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired or when the terms of an existing financial liability are substantially modified.

2.15 Trade Payables

Trade payables are amounts due to suppliers for merchandise purchased or services received in the ordinary course of business. If payment is expected in one year or less (or in the normal operating cycle of the Company if longer), they are classified as current liabilities. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities. Non-current trade payables are recognized initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

2.16 Borrowings

Borrowings are recognized initially at fair value, net of transaction costs and are subsequently measured at amortized cost. Any difference between cost and the redemption value is recognized in the statement of income over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method. If the Company has an indefinite right to defer payment for a period longer than 12 months after the end of the reporting date, such liabilities are recorded as non-current liabilities, otherwise, they are recorded as current liabilities.

2.17 Provisions

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are not recognized for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognized as interest expense.

When it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will occur due to a present obligation resulting from a past event, and the amount is reasonably estimable, a corresponding provision is recognized in the financial statements. However, when such outflow is dependent upon a future event, that is not certain to occur, or cannot be reliably estimated, a disclosure regarding the contingent liability is made in the notes to the financial statements.

2.18 Net Defined Benefit Liabilities

The Company has a variety of retirement pension plans including defined benefit or defined contribution plans. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Company pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. The Company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods. For defined contribution plans, the Company pays contributions to annuity plans that are managed either publicly or privately on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis. The Company has no further future payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are recognized as employee benefit expense when they are due. Prepaid contributions are recognized as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments is available.

A defined benefit plan is a pension plan that is not a defined contribution plan. Typically defined benefit plans define an amount of pension benefit that an employee will receive on retirement, usually dependent on one or more factors such as age, years of service and compensation. The liability recognized in the statement of financial position in respect to defined benefit pension plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rates of high-quality corporate bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid and that have terms to maturity approximating to the terms of the related pension obligation.

Actuarial gains and losses resulting from the changes in actuarial assumptions, and the differences between the previous actuarial assumptions and what has actually occurred, are recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they were incurred. Past service costs are immediately recognized in profit or loss.

2.19 Financial Guarantee Contract

Financial guarantee contracts are contracts that require the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payments when due. Financial guarantees are initially recognized in the financial statements at fair value on the date the guarantee was given. If the amount measured in subsequent periods exceeds the unamortized balance of the amount initially recognized, the excess is classified as other financial liability.

2.20 Current and Deferred Tax

The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognized on the profit for the period in the statement of income, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively. The tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognized for temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts as expected tax consequences at the recovery or settlement of the carrying amounts of the assets and liabilities. However, deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if they arise from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

A deferred tax liability is recognized for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates, and interests in joint ventures, except to the extent that the Company is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. In addition, a deferred tax asset is recognized for deductible temporary differences arising from such investments to the extent that it is probable the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income taxes assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2.21 Derivative Instruments

All derivative instruments are accounted for at fair value with the resulting valuation gain or loss recorded as an asset or liability. If the derivative instrument is not designated as a hedging instrument, the gain or loss is recognized in the statement of income in the period of change.

Fair value hedge accounting is applied to a derivative instrument with the purpose of hedging the exposure to changes in the fair value of an asset or a liability or a firm commitment (hedged item) that is attributable to a particular risk. Hedge accounting is applied when the derivative instrument is designated as a hedging instrument and the hedge accounting criteria have been met.

2.22 Dividend Distribution

Dividend distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognized when the dividends are approved.

2.23 Share Capital

Common shares and preferred shares with no repayment obligations are classified as equity. When the Company purchases its common shares, the acquisition costs including direct transaction costs are deducted from equity until the redemption or reissuance of treasury shares. Consideration received on the subsequent sale or issue of treasury shares is credited to equity.

2.24 Revenue Recognition

Revenue mainly comprises the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the sale of goods in the ordinary course of the Company's activities. Revenue is shown net of value-added tax, returns, sales incentives and discounts and after eliminating intercompany transactions.

The Company recognizes revenue when specific recognition criteria have been met for each of the Company's activities as described below. The Company bases its estimates on historical results, taking into consideration the type of customer, the type of transaction and the specifics of each arrangement.

Where multiple-element arrangements exist, the fair values of each element are determined based on the current market price of each of the elements when sold separately. When the fair values of each element are indeterminable, the fair values of deliverables which have already been provided are calculated in such way that the fair values of elements, which are yet to be provided, are subtracted from total contract value of the arrangement.

(A) Sales of goods

Sales of products and merchandise are recognized upon delivery when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of goods have transferred to the buyer, continuing managerial involvement usually associated with ownership and effective control have ceased, the amount of revenue can be measured reliably, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably. The Company records reductions to revenue for special pricing arrangements, price protection and other volume based discounts. If product sales are subject to customer acceptance, revenue is not recognized until customer acceptance occurs.

(B) Sales of services

Revenues from rendering services are generally recognized using the percentage-of-completion method, based on the percentage of costs to date compared to the total estimated costs, contractual milestones or performance.

(C) Other sources of revenue

Interest income is recognized using the effective interest method. When a loan and receivable is impaired, the Company reduces the carrying amount to its recoverable amount, being the estimated future cash flow discounted at the original effective interest rate of the instrument, and continues unwinding the discount as interest income. Royalty income is recognized on an accruals basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreements. Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive payment is established.

2.25 Government Grants

Government grants are recognized at their fair values when there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to it. Government grants related to assets are presented by deducting the grants in arriving at the carrying amount of the assets, and grants related to income are deferred and presented by deducting the related expenses for the purpose of the government grants.

2.26 Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing net profit for the period available to common shareholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is calculated using the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding adjusted to include the potentially dilutive effect of common equivalent shares outstanding.

2.27 Operating Segments

Operating segments are disclosed in the manner reported to the chief operating decision-maker (please see footnote 33). The chief operating decision-maker is responsible for making strategic decisions on resource allocation and performance assessment of the operating segments. The management committee which makes strategic decisions is regarded as the chief operating decision-maker.

2.28 Convenience Translation into United States Dollar Amounts

The Company operates primarily in Korean won and its official accounting records are maintained in Korean won. The US dollar amounts provided in the financial statements represent supplementary information solely for the convenience of the reader. All Korean won amounts are expressed in U.S. dollars at the rate of ₩1,055.30 to US $1, the exchange rate in effect on December 31, 2013. Such presentation is not in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and should not be construed as a representation that the Korean won amounts shown could be readily converted, realized or settled in US dollars at this or at any other rate.

2.29 Approval of the Consolidated Financial Statements

These consolidated financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors on January 24, 2014.

3. Critical Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The Company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The estimates and assumptions are continuously assessed, considering historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below.

(A) Revenue recognition

The Company uses the percentage-of-completion method in accounting for its fixed-price contracts to deliver installation services. Use of the percentage-of-completion method requires the Company to estimate the services performed to date as a proportion of the total services to be performed. Revenues and earnings are subject to significant change, effected by early steps in a long-term projects, change in scope of a project, cost, period, and plans of the customers.

(B) Provision for warranty

The Company recognizes provision for warranty on products sold. The Company accrues provision for warranty based on the best estimate of amounts necessary to settle future and existing claims. The amounts are estimated based on historical data.

(C) Fair value of derivatives and other financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using a variety of methods and assumptions that are mainly based on market conditions existing at the end of each reporting period.

(D) Net defined benefit liabilities

The net defined benefit liability depends on a number of factors that are determined on an actuarial basis using a number of assumptions. Any changes in these assumptions will impact the carrying amount of the net defined benefit liability. The Company, in consideration of the interest rates of high-quality corporate bonds, determines the appropriate discount rate at the end of each year. This is the interest rate that is used to determine the present value of estimated future cash outflows expected to be required to settle the net defined benefit liability.

The principal actuarial assumptions associated with the net defined benefit liability are based on the current market expectations.

(E) Estimated impairment of goodwill

The Company tests at the end of each reporting period whether goodwill has suffered any impairment in accordance with the accounting policy described in Note 2.12. The recoverable amounts of cash-generating units have been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations are based on estimates.

(F) Income taxes

Income taxes on the Company's taxable income from operating activities are subject to various tax laws and determinations of each tax authority across various countries in the world. There is uncertainty in determining the eventual tax effects on the taxable income from operating activities. The Company has recognized current tax and deferred tax at the end of the fiscal year based on the best estimation of future taxes payable as a result of operating activities. However, the resulting deferred income tax assets and liabilities may not equal the actual future taxes payable and such difference may impact the current tax and deferred income tax assets and liabilities upon the determination of eventual tax effects.

4. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

8. Transfer of Financial Assets

Trade receivables of the Company have been discounted through factoring agreements with banks in 2013 and 2012. Collaterals (trade receivables and other) provided in such factoring transactions do not meet the requirements for asset derecognition as risks and rewards are not substantially transferred in the event the debtor defaults. Financial liabilities recognized in relation to these transactions are included as short-term borrowings on the statements of financial position (Note 15).

The following table presents a breakdown of discounted trade receivables as of December 31, 2013 and 2012:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013	2012

(B) Goodwill

Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units at the end of the reporting period, and consists of the following:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013	2012
S. LSI business	₩109,120	₩112,723
Memory business	74,418	74,995
Health Care Equipment business	199,758	89,258
Digital Imaging business	-	82,599
LCD business	80,299	80,299
LED business	79,277	79,277
Others	17,662	54,694
Total	₩560,534	₩573,845

Goodwill impairment reviews are undertaken annually, and the recoverable amounts of cash-generating units have been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations use pre-tax cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using the estimated growth rates stated below. The growth rate does not exceed the long-term average growth rate for the business. In addition, a constant growth rate assumption is used for perpetual cash flow calculation.

Pursuant to the results of the goodwill impairment reviews performed, the Company recognized an impairment of goodwill for the Digital Imaging business. The major assumptions used in calculating the value in use are as follows:

Samsung Digital Imaging	2013	2012
Sales growth rate (*1)	0.2	6.7
Perpetual growth rate (*2)	(4.1)	(2.4)
Pre-tax discount rate (*3)	13.0	15.6

(*1) Future cash flows for 5 years are projected based on previous growth rate and the industry estimates.

(*2) The projected growth rate beyond five years is consistent with industry estimates.

(*3) Pre-tax discount rate applied to the cash flow projections.

Sales growth rate was determined on the basis of past performance and expectations of market fluctuations. The discount rate reflects the special risk related to the division.

The carrying value of Samsung Digital Imaging exceeded the value in use by ₩82,599 million in 2013 and ₩204,600 million in 2012 and the amounts have been recognized as the other non-operating expenses in the consolidated statements of income.

(*) Deferred tax assets were not recognized if it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future for investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures.

The Company periodically assesses its ability to recover deferred income tax assets. In the event of a significant uncertainty regarding the Company's ultimate ability to recover such assets, deferred income tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Temporary differences whose deferred tax effects were not recognized due to the uncertainty regarding ultimate realizability of such assets as of December 31, 2013 and 2012 are as follows:

The Company has one category of dilutive potential ordinary shares: stock options. A calculation is done to determine the number of shares that could have been acquired at fair value (determined as the average annual market share price of the Company's shares) based on the monetary value of the subscription rights attached to outstanding share options. The number of shares calculated as above is compared with the number of shares that would have been issued assuming the exercise of the share options.

32. Financial Risk Management

The Company's financial risk management focuses on minimizing market risk, credit risk, and liquidity risk arising from operating activities. To mitigate these risks, the Company implements and operates a financial risk policy and program that closely monitors and manages such risks.

The finance team mainly carries out the Company's financial risk management. With the cooperation of the Company's divisions, domestic and foreign subsidiaries, the finance team periodically measures, evaluates and hedges financial risk and also establishes and implements the global financial risk management policy.

Also, financial risk management officers are dispatched to the regional headquarters of each area including the United States of America, England, Singapore, China, Japan, Brazil and Russia to operate the local finance center for global financial risk management.

The Company's financial assets that are under financial risk management are composed of cash and cash equivalents, short-term financial instruments, available-for-sale financial assets, trade and other receivables and other financial assets. The Company's financial liabilities under financial risk management are composed of trade and other payables, borrowings, debentures, and other financial liabilities.

(A) Market risk

(1) Foreign exchange risk

The Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to the United States of America, European Union, South America, Japan and other Asian countries. Revenues and expenses arise from foreign currency transactions and exchange positions, and the most widely used currencies are the US Dollar, EU's EURO, Japanese Yen and Chinese Yuan. Foreign exchange risk management of the Company is carried out by both SEC and its subsidiaries. To minimize foreign exchange risk arising from operating activities, the Company's foreign exchange management policy requires normal business transactions to be in local currency or for the cash-in currency to be matched up with the cash-out currency. The Company's foreign exchange risk management policy also defines foreign exchange risk, measuring period, controlling responsibilities, management procedures, hedging period and hedge ratio.

The Company limits all speculative foreign exchange transactions and operates a system to manage receivables and payables denominated in foreign currency. It evaluates, manages and reports foreign currency exposures to receivables and payables.

A summary of foreign assets and liabilities of the Company, presented in Korean won, as of December 31, 2013 and 2012 is as follows:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013				2012
	USD	EUR	JPY	Others	USD	EUR	JPY	Others

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013		2012

Financial assets	₩646,938	₩(646,938)	₩777,504	₩(777,504)

Net effect	41,944	(41,944)	183,216	(183,216)

(2) Price risk

The Company's investment portfolio consists of direct and indirect investments in equity securities classified as available-for-sale, which is in line with the Company's strategy.

As of December 31, 2013 and 2012, a price fluctuation in relation to marketable equity securities by 1% would result in changes in other comprehensive income (before income tax) of ₩43,933 million and ₩44,359 million, respectively.

(3) Interest rate risk

Risk of changes in interest rate for a floating interest rate financial instrument is defined as the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is exposed to interest rate risk mainly through interest bearing liabilities and assets. The Company's position with regard to interest rate risk exposure is mainly driven by its debt obligations such as bonds, interest-bearing deposits and issuance of receivables. In order to avoid interest rate risk, the Company maintains minimum external borrowings by facilitating cash pooling systems on a regional and global basis. The Company manages exposed interest rate risk via periodic monitoring and handles risk factors on a timely basis.

The sensitivity risk of the Company is determined based on the following assumptions:

- Changes in market interest rates that could impact the interest income and expenses of floating interest rate financial instruments

Based on the above assumption, changes to profit and net equity as a result of 1% increases in interest rate on borrowings are presented below:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013		2012
	Increase	Decrease	Increase	Decrease
Financial assets	₩46,025	₩(46,025)	₩78,164	₩(78,164)
Financial liabilities	(22,942)	22,942	(21,864)	21,864
	₩23,083	₩(23,083)	₩56,300	₩(56,300)

(B) Credit risk

Credit risk arises during the normal course of transactions and investing activities where clients or other parties fail to discharge an obligation. The Company monitors and sets the client's and counterparty's credit limit on a periodic basis based on the client's and counterparty's financial conditions, default history and other important factors.

Credit risk can arise from transactions with financial institutions which include financial instrument transactions such as cash and cash equivalents, savings, and derivative instruments. To minimize such risk, the Company transacts only with banks which have strong international credit rating (S&P A and above), and all new transactions with financial institutions with no prior transaction history are approved, managed and monitored by the Company's finance team and the local finance center. The Company requires separate approval for contracts with restrictions.

Most of the Company's accounts receivable is adequately insured to manage any risk, therefore, the Company estimates its credit risk exposure to be limited. The Company estimates that its maximum exposure to credit risk is the carrying value of its financial assets, net of impairment losses.

(C) Liquidity risk

Due to large investments made by the Company, maintaining adequate levels of liquidity risk is critical. The Company strives to achieve this goal by periodically forecasting its capital balance, estimating required cash levels, and managing income and expenses.

The Company manages its liquidity risk by periodically forecasting projected cash flows. If abnormal signs are identified, the Company works with the local finance center and provides liquidity support by utilizing a globally integrated finance structure, such as Cash Pooling. In addition, the Company maintains a liquidity management process which provides additional financial support by the local finance center and the Company. The Cash Pooling program allows sharing of surplus funds among entities and contributes to minimizing liquidity risk and strengthening the Company's competitive position by reducing capital operation expenses and finance expenses.

In addition, the Company mitigates liquidity risk by contracting with financial institutions with respect to bank overdrafts and foreign trade finance and by providing payment guarantees to subsidiaries. For large scale facility investments, liquidity risk is minimized by utilizing internal reserves and long term borrowings according to the capital injection schedule.

The following table is an undiscounted cash flow analysis for financial liabilities that are presented on the statements of financial position according to their remaining contractual maturity.

(In millions of Korean won)

2013	Less than 3 months	4-6 months	7-12 months	1-5 years	More than 5 years
Financial liabilities	₩33,862,896	₩1,095,285	₩4,806,477	₩2,564,769	₩65,772

(In millions of Korean won)

2012	Less than 3 months	4-6 months	7-12 months	1-5 years	More than 5 years
Financial liabilities	₩32,257,940	₩1,690,825	₩2,371,879	₩7,006,975	₩76,236

The Company's trading portfolio of derivative instruments have been included at their fair value of ₩244,172 million (2012: ₩79,212 million) within the less than three month time bucket because the contractual maturities are not essential for an understanding of the timing of the cash flows. These contracts are managed on a net-fair value basis rather than by maturity date. Net settled derivatives consist of forward exchange contracts used by the Company to manage the exchange rate profile.

The maximum liquidity risk exposure from those other than the above financial liabilities (e.g. payment guarantees for affiliated companies and performance bonds) as of December 31, 2013 is ₩183,644 million (December 31, 2012: ₩151,817 million).

(D) Capital risk management

The purpose of capital management is to maintain a sound capital structure. The Company monitors capital on the basis of the ratio of total liabilities to total equity. This ratio is calculated by dividing total liabilities by total equity in the consolidated financial statements.

The Company's capital risk management policy has not changed since the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012. The Company has maintained an A+ and A1 credit ratings from S&P and Moody's, respectively, on its long term debt.

The total liabilities to equity ratios as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, are as follows:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013	2012
Total liabilities	₩64,059,008	₩59,591,364
Total equity	150,016,010	121,480,206

The levels of the fair value hierarchy and its application to financial assets and liabilities are described below.

- Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly
- Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs)

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the statement of financial position date. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The quoted market price used for financial assets held by the Company is the current bid price. These instruments are included in Level 1. Instruments included in Level 1 are listed equity investments classified as trading securities or available-for-sale financial assets.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (for example, over-the-counter derivatives) is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximize the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in Level 2.

If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in Level 3.

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

- Quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments.
- The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts is determined using forward exchange rates at the statement of financial position date, with the resulting value discounted back to present value.

Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for the remaining financial instruments. For trade and other receivables, the book value approximates a reasonable estimate of fair value.

(2) Changes in Level 3 instruments:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2013	2012
Balance as of January 1	₩389,195	₩623,739

Others (*)	(3,816)	(278,786)
Balance as of December 31	₩493,378	₩389,195

(*) Amount measured at cost is included as the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant and the probabilities of the various estimates cannot be reasonably assessed.

(3) Valuation technique and the inputs

The Company utilizes a present value technique to discount future cash flows at a proper interest rate for corporate bonds, government and public bonds, and bank debentures that are classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

The Company uses a binomial pricing model derived from the assumption that the underlying assets for the currency forward contracts follow a binomial probability distribution.

The following table presents the valuation technique and the inputs used for major financial instruments classified as Level 3.

(In millions of Korean won)

Classification	Fair value	Valuation Technique	Level 3 Inputs	Input Range
				(Weighted Average)
Samsung Petrochemical	80,347	Discounted cash flow	Permanent growth rate	-1.00%~1.00% (0%)
			Weighted average cost of capital	6.37%~8.37% (7.37%)

			Stock price volatility	13.77%~20.02% (17.15%)

(4) Sensitivity analysis for recurring fair value measurements categorized within Level 3

Sensitivity analysis of financial instruments is performed to measure favorable and unfavorable changes in the fair value of financial instruments which are affected by the unobservable parameters, using a statistical technique. When the fair value is affected by more than two input parameters, the amounts represent the most favorable or most unfavorable.

The results of the sensitivity analysis for the effect on profit or loss from changes in inputs for each financial instrument, which is categorized within Level 3 and subject to sensitivity analysis, are as follows:

(In millions of Korean won)

Classification	Favorable Changes		Unfavorable Changes
	Profit or Loss	Equity	Profit or Loss	Equity
Available-for-sale financial assets (*1)	-	35,324	-	(27,586)
Embedded derivatives (convertible bonds, etc.)(*2)	1,457	1,457	(1,499)	(1,499)
Total	1,457	36,781	(1,499)	(29,085)

(*1) For equity securities, changes in their fair value are calculated by increasing or decreasing the correlation between growth ratio (-1%~1%) and discount rate, which are significant unobservable inputs.

(*2) For equity derivatives, changes in their fair value are calculated by increasing or decreasing the correlation between stock prices and volatility by 10%.
