2022-2023 Samsung Solve for Tomorrow
Rubric for Contest Application Online Submission

| Criteria | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | Awarded Score |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Originality & Feasibility (40%) | Project solution does not identify a clear problem that shows how the community is currently impacted. Project solution is neither original nor feasible. | Project solution vaguely mentions a problem that shows how the community is currently impacted. Project solution is partially original and/or feasible. | Project solution identifies a problem that shows how the community is currently impacted. Project solution seems original and/or feasible. | Project clearly identifies and thoroughly explains a clear problem that shows how the community is currently impacted. Project solution is clearly original and feasible. | |
| Solution Applies STEM (40%) | Project solution does not appear to incorporate any STEM application. | Project solution hints at STEM application, but it is not clear. | Project solution somewhat applies STEM subjects. | Project solution clearly applies STEM subjects and principles. | |
| Impact Community (10%) | Project solution does not have potential impact on the community – local or national. | Project solution hints at potential impact on the community – local or national. | Project solution has clear potential to have an impact on the community – local or national. | Project solution has high potential to have an impact on the community – local or national. | |
| Quality of Submission (10%) | Project solution does not adhere to themes and questions. Writing is poorly organized with several grammatical errors. | Project solution hints at the themes and questions, but it is not clearly indicated in the application. Writing is poorly organized with some grammatical errors. | Project solution mostly adheres to the themes and questions, indicated in the application. Writing is organized with minimal grammatical errors. | Project solution adheres to the themes and questions. Writing is well organized with little to no grammatical errors. | |